

1982 HONDA CX500 TURBO DayGlo Red vs. DayGlo Orange

As of June 2009, BDesigns has obtained an improved colour match to a never used OEM fairing component that has been in storage for years and the decals have not faded. The original colour match we had was matched to a fairing in excellent condition, however, we were unaware there was some fading on that part. What has also helped us with this new colour match is a new vinyl that has been made available. The new colour matches extremely well to the OEM DayGlo Red colour on the original fairing.

However, some customers prefer the lighter, more orange (faded appearance) colour of the old colour match we were using, which we call DayGlo Orange.

Please contact us if you want DayGlo Orange, since there is a minimum order quantity of material, and because of that we will have to quote you for a set in DayGlo orange. If you do not contact us, we will send the current DayGlo Red colour.

Below are pictures showing the matches.
